TERMS OF REFERENCE

HIRING OF A TECHNICAL CONSULTANT FOR THE OFFICE OF THE PRIVACY COMMISSIONER

I. Background

Section 9, Rule III of the Implementing Rules and Regulations (IRR) of the Data Privacy Act of 2012 mandates the National Privacy Commission (NPC) to undertake necessary or appropriate efforts to inform and educate the public of data privacy, data protection, and fair information rights and responsibilities by undertaking, among other things, publishing, on a regular basis, a guide to all laws relating to data protection. Pursuant to this, the NPC shall continue to create and publish articles in 2021 in the DPO Journal, an online newsletter for Data Protection Officers (DPOs). The DPO Journal is a monthly publication and shall serve as the repository for much-needed sector-specific articles, and related information on data privacy for the education of all the stakeholders of the NPC as well as those in the global privacy community.

The NPC has identified twenty-one (21) sectors (Government, Banks, Education, Health & Hospitals, Retail & Manufacturing, Manning, Transportation & Logistics, Real Estate, Tourism, Hotels, Health Maintenance Organization, Security, Information Society Services, Telecommunication/ISPs, Business Process Outsourcing, Social Media & Media, Life Insurance, Non-Life Insurance, Pharmaceutical, Non-Bank Financial Institutions, and Utilities). Each sector is handled by a designated NPC Policy Advisor, who is responsible in drafting policies for inclusion in the monthly DPO Journal.

There is thus a need to hire a Technical Consultant who is knowledgeable in the nuances of editing pieces for the business community and the general public and who can facilitate the publication of consistently informative and concise articles in the DPO Journal. The consultant must also help train concerned NPC staff in writing and business communications, and enable the entire Commission to come up with a publishing process adaptable to all communications outputs of its various divisions. The Technical Consultant will also conduct training and workshops on information communication dissemination, which is vital in strengthening the capability of NPC personnel in crafting communications and reports for the monthly journal.

In addition, the consultant may observe NPC events as these are sources of good topics for communications releases. These events include Compliance, Accountability, Audit and Trends (CAAT) conferences, Strategic Planning Workshops, Privacy Awareness Week, Global Privacy Forum, DPO summits, media launches, and inter-agency privacy-related conferences and seminars. The consultant can cover these events and help come up with newsworthy articles.
